

Randolph Communications Awarded 2018 Liberty Business of the Year

February 26, 2018 – Liberty, NC – Randolph Communications was recognized and received the award for 2018 Liberty Business of the Year at the Liberty Chamber Annual Banquet held on Saturday, February 24th. The award was voted on by the community and Liberty Chamber Board. Stephanie Gee, Marketing Director for Randolph Communications accepted the award on the company's behalf.

Since May 13th, 1954 Randolph Communications has remained committed and has taken pride in providing excellent customer service and the best technology available to the customers and communities they serve. Their goal is to provide affordable, reliable services that shape and improve their members' daily lives and enable their communities to thrive.

"We feel honored to receive such an amazing award. Our customers come first in every decision we make and our goal is to always make sure our customers know they are our top priority. We strive to play an important role in the continued economic growth and prosperity of our area. We are thankful to the Liberty community to receive such an incredible recognition." Said, Stephanie Gee, Marketing Director.

Randolph Communications mission is; "To improve the lives of our customers and communities."

- end -

Randolph Communications

317 East Dixie Drive Asheboro, NC 27203 | (336) 879-5684 or 622-7900 | www.rtmc.net